High Reliability Class Registration Instructions: EMPLOYED Professional Staff and Allied Health Providers
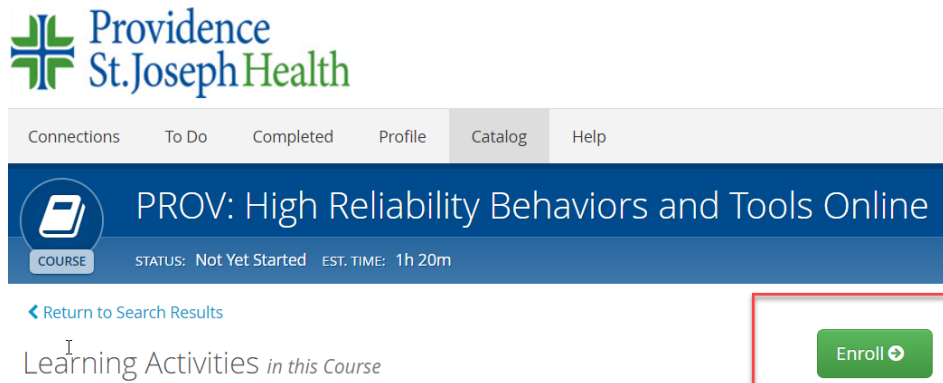

Professional Staff are required to complete the High Reliability Behaviors and Tools online training within 90 days of appointment.

For Providence and our affiliates, becoming a highly reliable organization means achieving and sustaining high performance with an internally driven safety focus. Through our High Reliability initiative, and the behavior of every caregiver, we are shaping a culture of reliability that will enable us to consistently achieve – every time, every place– the safest, highest quality clinical outcomes.

Our region's training teaches the tones, tools, and behaviors of High Reliability. All caregivers, employed and non-employed, are required to complete this training.
