Advanced Endoscopy Program

Providence Digestive Health Institute offers a range of endoscopic procedures to help diagnose and treat conditions affecting the digestive tract. We care for patients with a variety of complicated biliary/pancreatic diseases, inflammatory bowel disease, liver disease and gastrointestinal malignancies. Our dedicated team maintains consistently higher success rates and lower complication rates than the national average.

We perform highly specialized procedures not widely available in the region, including:

- Endoscopic retrograde cholangiopancreatography (ERCP)
- Endoscopic ultrasound
- Spyglass cholangioscopy/lithotripsy
- BarrX and cryoablation for Barrett's esophagus
- Optical coherence tomography and cellvizio for Barrett's esophagus
- Endoscopic mucosal resection and submucosal dissection
- Balloon endoscopic and capsule enteroscopy
- Chromoendoscopy
- Advanced liver disease services
- Transgastric pseudocyst drainage
- Gut motility studies
- Large polyp removal
- High-resolution manometry/pH studies
- Photodynamic therapy

Providence Digestive Health Institute and Providence Cancer Institute collaborate on two multidisciplinary case conferences for liver and biliopancreatic disease management. To learn more visit ProvidenceOregon.org/cancerconference
