Staff:

Our staff consists of Unit Leaders and volunteers who are trained in working with children of different abilities. In addition, we have an RN or health care professional present. You may also see an OT, PT or Speech Pathologist out there as well! Even so, this is Camp, not therapy!

Fees:

The price for Camp is $130 per child for the week. We are able to offer Camp at a small fraction of the actual cost to provide this service because of the generous support of the Providence General Children's Association and Providence General Foundation!

If your child has DDA respite hours, you may be able to use them for Camp! Financial assistance is available for those who can show a financial need.

Financial Assistance

We strongly believe that no child should be excluded from attending Camp Prov for financial reasons. Scholarships are available through the Children's Center for those who need help paying the camp fees. Please indicate this on the Camp application and return it to the address on the form.

Camp Prov is made possible through generous grants from Providence General Children's Association (PGCA) and Providence General Foundation with the cooperative efforts of Providence Children's Center.
